African Jewy Imperilled African Jewy Imperill Russia, U.K. State Firm Follows Israel Will Not Precipitate Intent to Pacify M-East Crisis, Sharett Tells Congress

ed from Istanbul at 2.45 this afternoon, Hundreds of cheering people greeted him from the Airport terraces and at the foot of the plane's gangway 50 boys and girls of the Ben Shemen Children's Village made merry with a band and choir. Waiting for Danny Kaye were Dr. C. Hart Schaat, Chief of the U.N. Technical Aid Mission and Dr. Thomas H. McGrail, U.S. Cultural Attache, Mr. M. de Shallt, of the Prime Minister's Office and Mrs. Z. Harman, Chairman of UNICEF in Israel, as well as Danny Kaye, coustn, Miss Marian Kaminsky, of Natanya, an animal trainer. After the passengers had alighted, there was no sign of Danny Kaye, coustn, Miss marian Kaminsky, of Natanya, an animal trainer. After the passengers had alighted, there was no sign of Danny Kaye, and some onlookers said: "He hasn't come." However, after 10 minutes he emerged from the plane gesticulating and chuckting, to the cheers and laughter of fans and the flashing of cameras. He wore a brown suit, yellow sweater, open-necked shirt, and a felt hat back to front. Two girls and a boy presented him with flowers and kinses. The children's band struck, and the "King of the Kide" entered straight into a show. He conducted the orchestra, played a berrowed flute and Wanted

who, while they differ widely in approach and manner, have in common the fact that they all heap close to representation.

Toungest is 23-year-old Zvi Milstein, who is a young painter of exceptional promise. He is imaginative, capable of conveying emotion, has feeling for colour and for the medium of oil paint and is not afraid to tackle a large-scale and complicated composition.

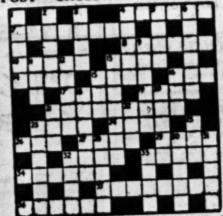

Two of the paintings, Shirippoi of Life" and "Hunger" gractically cover a wall each, and although the estign is somewhat entangled and the significance of all the motifs not too clear, there is power as well as the exuberance of youth in these canvasce. His portraits are particularly sympathetic in feeling with the colour well handled, and of pleasing texture. R will be interesting to watch his development.

Twenty-seven-year old Avraham Braunstein is a much more "finished" painter than Milstein, a fine draughtsman whose works are carefully planned and who is able to organize a large composition effectively.

Braunstein uses cool, pale colours put on fiat and he confines modelling to the faces of his figures. He is observant and there is interesting detail in mearly all the works, especially in the large Ernest Jones' Life & Works of Sigmund Freed. Vol. II, 1910-1919 (Basic Books, II-8.775) will disappoint readers in search of the popular fiction-psychoanalysis now so much in vogus. Without revealing certain secret drives and frustrations of The Master, the book is most fascinating, and even entertaining, in its slashing descriptions of the Grest Deceit (Jones considers "betrayal" too mild a word for the treachery of Breuer, Fliesa, Adler and Jung, Jung, as you know, was Rigmund's angel, as Brutus was Caesar's. Strongty recommended to anyone interested in one of the most fascinating quarrels of philosophical history.

Also interesting, but very heavy reading, is Anthony H. Richmond's The Colour given very warm applause for these words.

Zion Square was a solid mas of people about a o'clock last night as thousands of adults and children turned out to catch a gimpee of the film star before his performance at the Zion Conema. Police were on duty detouring traffic through alde streets. The Chnema marquee was garlanded in green and we hung with the U.N. flag.

From the moment of his arrival at Jerusalem's king David Hotel, during his call on the President and Mrs. Ben-Zvi and on his appearance at Zion Hall, Mr. Kaye was cheered along by hundreds of children.

Scores of photographers mapped and filmed Mr. Haye's half hour visit with Mr, and Mrs. Ben-Zvi at their home. Speaking in Yiddish, the noted entertainer told them of his travels on behalf of UNICEF Before signing his name in Hebrew in the guest book, he said that "after two hours in Israel I feel that I will return here."

Returning to his hotel, the comedian received a bouget of flowers from a group of boy and girl scouts, whom he later entertained from his balcomy by cariesturing the scout salute.

"The book of the People of the Book for a son of the people" was the inscription in a Hible presented to him by Mayor Gershon Agron of Jerusalem; who greeted him on behalf of the City. As he said, there of the Rovernmant Mrs. Chain by Mayor Gershon Agron of Jerusalem; in the little evening.

the Book fot a son of the people" was the inscription in a Bible presented to him by Mayor Gershon Agron who greeted him on behalf of the city. As he said, there was no need for a spoken greeting, as the crowds in the streets of the capital had already expressed their warm wiscome.

On behalf of UNICEF, Mrs. Zena Harman welcomed Danny Kaye on the stage of the Zion and Dr. Schaaf introduced him. His performance of singing, clowning and mimiery was an unusual trest. He danced with the children of the Rina Nikova and Hassia Levi troupes and sang with Zvi Kaplan's children's their and used the conferencier, Raphael Klatakin, as a happy shadow.

When the choir sang Thumbolima' in Hebrew he taught it to them in English and the children gave him a short lesson in Hebrew. He asked the cider folk to translate his Yiddish songs and jokes for the solves, and an hilarious evening was enjoyed by a distinguished audience that included the Presidence and Mrs. Ben-Zvi. Herut sot little sympathy in Congress as it sets little sympathy from the majority of the pecole. But there is a certain danger in the situation which is being built up. The arms of the Arabs are attaining overwhelming superiority and it is becoming difficult to counter the argument that Israel cannot remain passive until she is in such an inferior position that here dication will be a foregone conclusion. That Israel genuinely seeks peace was emphasized in the steech to delegates by Mr. Sharett, the Foreign Minister, last night, and it was also driven home by the decoly human appeal of Mrs. Golda Myersen at the afternoon's season. But the seekers of peace most be given something to seekers.
